Dear Duro.
What actually happened with your doing "nothing" subsidy request for Hamburg project?
I did send it in, snail mail, the cheapest, hope it arrived. Never heard from the organizers but could only except via snail mail. But here the copy at least will be published...

Dear Armen, Tugba, Friedrich and Eva.

My partner, my alter ego, twin, best friend is the ultimate "nothing" doer. An Artist.
I told him: "There is this call for entries. It's perfect for you. Here is the application form."
- I don't want to fill any boring application forms. And I am busy.
- Here we go. I thought. I leave him alone. As sometimes he is so busy doing "nothing," one waits in anticipation for the result.
Once he made an amazing film about "nothing" after doing "nothing" forever.

A few days later I try again.
- I can fill the form for you. There is the deadline! And money in it!
- Deadline? Money? How much?
- 1600 E.
- What does one have to do to get it?
- As much "nothing" as possible.
- Cool. Send them our bank account number.
- That's it?
- It's more than I can think of at the moment. Who gives the deadline and the money?
- Some Weimar people.
- Weimar? Not Dessau? Or Berlin?
- Weimar, some museum.
- OK.

I take a break... for a week or so. And one afternoon, after I...
I say: - You want me to file the form with only bank data on it?
- Why it is only 1600 E? It's nothing.
- It is actually 3 x 1600 E.
- So send 3 forms!
- With the same account number.
- I think it is not interesting enough... for the concept.
- Why not?
- It's just not, I said. And I said: They ask what do you want to do doing "nothing". Or not to do.
- More or less "nothing". A quality one. But... It's fluid. To do/not to do.
- Shall I write this?
- Fuck no. Just the bank.
- OK. They ask more questions... not relevant ones.
- If you say so.
- I did.
- ... I mail the form to Hamburg. Hope you got it in order.

"I report back to the "nothing" genius."
"I mailed it."
"How much?"
"How much what?"
"The postage."
"The cheapest slowest snail mail."
"OK. You get it back after I get 1800."
"OK. I said."

And that's it. Few weeks of hard work.

Greetings,

Duro Grolinic

P.S. He also said:
"The only right way to apply is not to apply. But... to do nothing in style, one needs money, fucking contradictions!"

"Hypocrit, I thought,"
And I asked:
"Shall I put your name?"
"Fk no. Let them do some... something..."
